January Picnic Features the Famous "Chilly Chili" Contest

GCC will have its world famous "Chilly Chilli" picnic on Saturday, January 17 at Oleno State Park. Bike rides start at 9 a.m., food starts about noon.

The picnic features a Chili Cookoff, and everyone is invited to bring their best chili. For those who don't like spicy chili, The Club will provide the famous "Fowl Flesh Chili", a mild chili made with ground turkey, guaranteed to offend no one. On the other end of the spectrum, we expect the return of George Edwards' mouth watering "Five Alarm Chili" with its accompanying antidote.

All chilis are welcome, including vegetarian recipes, hot or mild chilis and other variations. Prizes and praise will be awarded to the best chili's including vegetarian chili, mammal flesh (cow, swine, squirrel) chili, and fowl flesh (chicken, turkey, ostrich) chili. Insect and seafood based chilis are also welcome.

The Club will provide soft drinks and a big pot of rice to accompany the chili. All picnic participants are asked to bring either a chili or a side dish, such as a salad or desert.

Bike rides will include both road rides and off-road rides. Road ride leaders may want to organize road rides for the Oleno area. the top half of the Santa Fe Century route is near Oleno.

Oleno has 13 miles of gentle off-road trails, including the historic Bellamy Road, Florida's first Federal road built in 1826. Chandler will lead a history ride to the Bellamy Road, which will include the Old Spanish Trace and Wire Road, which have been in use for more than 300 years.

Directions to Oleno State Park:

Oleno is 35 miles north of Gainesville on US 441. Take US 441 north through Alachua and High springs. Oleno is eight miles north of High springs on US 441. Riders and picnickers should meet at the picnic area in Oleno, which is next to the Santa Fe river.

President's Letter

Dear Friends:

The Palatka-Lake Butler Trail State Park is coming, but don't pack your pannier bags just yet. I was recently asked to serve on the Advisory Group for the Unit Management Plan for this new State Park, and learned a lot about its progress and future. This Trail has been on the State's target list since 1991, and is just now getting going.

The Trail is presently in the earliest stages of planning, and much remains to be done before paving starts. We understand from Park Manager Bob Rundle that contracts will soon be let for major clearing of brush and debris from the 46-mile right-of-way, and that engineering studies of extant bridges will follow. Design work will be done with some enhancement funds over the next couple of years.

As funds become available, paving should start in 2006 at the Palatka end. The first segment to be completed will be the eastern part, perhaps as far as Keystone Heights, with trailheads planned at Palatka, near Florahome, Putnam Hall, and in Keystone Heights.

The Management Plan as presented seems reasonable, and if the Trail gets built as now envisioned it will be a fine facility. The trailheads are planned for water and restrooms, as well as parking for automobiles and horse rigs. Cultural and environmental kiosks are planned along the Trail and at trailheads.

The Plan noted that there are no minerals of economic or cultural interest in the area of the Trail, so I couldn't resist pointing out that the Trail crosses and parallels the Trail Ridge, a world-famous source of titanium minerals, that element being rather well-regarded by many cyclists (not to mention house painters).

The Western section of the Trail on from Keystone Heights through Hampton to Lake Butler is going to be more of an engineering challenge, and will take longer to complete. Much of this area is wetland, and the railroad berm is built up above the swamp. This makes the crest of the berm rather narrow when you want to include a 12-foot bike trail and an adequate equestrian trail beside it. Plus the bridge over the New River is history, so a costly replacement will be required.

I also got my name on the list for a support group to develop a trail from St. Augustine to Palatka, and from Lake Butler to Lake City, which will make for a truly long facility.

You can rest assured that I spoke out for a connection (somehow, some where) with the Gainesville-Hawthorne Trail.

I will keep you posted as news comes to me.

Cheers,

George H. Edwards

New on the Website

Off Road

by Leslie Folkerth

This month I wanted to take the opportunity to talk to you about trail etiquette. We all may know the basics when riding with other bikers, and if not, I will save that subject for another time. But this month I want to talk about the relationships between cyclists and horses.

Although the trails at San Felasco are separate, there are some cases where there is a common treadway or the trails run parallel for a short distance. And many times they cross each other. Horses are by nature prey animals, and although they might not be afraid of the bikes themselves, they can easily be frightened by anything that approaches them too quickly.

The best thing to do when you see a horse and rider, even if it is off on its own trail, is to slow down and prepare to stop if necessary. Be sure to call a greeting like "Good morning!" or "Hi there, horse!" so the horse realizes there is actually a human connected to that strange thing on two wheels. This is not only for your own safety, but that of the horse and other rider as well.

As cyclists, we also should encourage equestrians to let us pet and talk to their horses when appropriate. This helps keep the horses at ease, and more importantly, helps foster good relationships between these diverse trail user groups.

I actually had the opportunity a few weeks ago to serve as one of the ride guides for the Friends of San Felasco's annual horse benefit trail ride (and it was not as much work to power up those steep climbs!). Our group only encountered one bicycle rider coming out of the Tung Nut Loop into the Powerbar Overlook clearing. I was midway in the pack, and as I approached, I saw the rider who was proceeding very slowly and coming to a stop to let the entire group go by. I called a greeting to him, let him know we just had a few more horses coming by, and then told him it was safe to cross. I thanked him, he thanked me, and everyone went on their merry way. What could have been a dangerous situation was avoided completely by the courtesy of this bike rider.

We all enjoy using these great trails, mountain bikers, horse riders, and hikers alike. Let's all do our part to keep the trails fun and safe for everyone!

Hope to see you on the trails soon – either on my bike or perhaps even a horse!

Leslie

PS - Don't forget our weekly rides, Sundays at 9:00 am at San Felasco Hammock State Preserve. All levels and abilities are welcome!

SAVE THE DATE!

The 2nd Annual Tour de Felasco will be held on January 10, 2004. Registration forms should be available by the time you read this, and you can download one at www.sanfelasco.net. Registration is limited to 300 riders, and I anticipate we will fill up quickly. Get your application in today! For questions about registration, feel free to call or email me!

Holiday Party Activities

Eating

The club will provide a couple of turkeys. Bring side dishes to complement the birds.

Food Contest

When you arrive you will be given a food label and a food ballot. The label will have a number on it. Write your name and a description of your dish on the label and make sure that it is placed so that everyone can tell that it goes with your dish. When you decide to vote for a dish as "best", write the number that is on it's label on your ballot, and place it in the ballot box. Prizes will be awarded for best dish and best desert.

Where Am I?

When you arrive at the Holiday Party, be sure and put your name on a name tag and stick it on your chest; with over 400 club members, there's bound to be someone who doesn't quite remember your name! While you are doing this, the greeter will place another name tag on your back with your location for the evening. It is your task to determine where you are. Now, of course, every one else will know, since they can see your back. But no one is allowed to actually tell you where you are. But they can answer questions that you pose to them about where you are. A sample dialog (for an easy one) follows:

Am I in Gainesville? NO

Am I in Florida? YES

Am I in a city? NO

Am I at a theme park? YES

Is the park in the Orlando area? NO

Am I at Weeki Watchi? NO

Am I at Parrot Jungle? NO

Am I at Silver Springs? YES

Costume Contest

We will award prizes in several costume categories, which may include: best dressed, most creatively dressed, and funniest or most entertaining costume.

The decision of the judges will be final!

Competitive Gift Exchange

Everyone coming to the party should bring a wrapped gift. You shouldn't spend a lot of dough on this gift, in fact something lying around the garage may do just fine. On the other hand, if you are well off and want to have some fun, go for it. If you have total imagination failure, throw a Power Bar or two into a shoe box and wrap it.

All of the gifts go under the tree. We will then call a location for the evening (see Where Am I?) and that person who is there will select a gift from under the tree and open it (quickly). Subsequent persons called will have a choice: select a gift from under the tree or take one that someone else already has. If your gift is taken, you have the choice of selecting one from under the tree, or taking one someone else has (you cannot take back the one you just lost). You are limited to three "takes" during the evening; after that, if you are the victim, you must select a gift from under the tree. The game ends when the last person selects a gift from under the tree.

Gainesville Cycling Club Brevet Series

2004 Event Schedule

Date	Time	Distance	Time Limit	Cost
Jan 17	7AM	200 km	13:30	$20
Feb 7	6AM	300 km	20:00	$25
Mar 6	4AM	400 km	27:00	$30
Apr 3	2AM	600 km	40:00	$40
Apr 10		Fleche	> 24H	$10

GCC members take $5 off the cost of each event.

Background

Brevets are longer, self-paced rides ridden by randonneurs (tr: ultratourists). A sequence of four brevets of increasing distance qualifies the rider to enter Paris-Brest-Paris, the oldest bicycling event on earth. In years when PBP is not held, various surrogates (e.g., Boston-Montreal-Boston) have similar qualification requirements.

Brevets are not races; published results traditionally list the finishers alphabetically and may not even include their times. But there is a time limit. This limit includes the minutes spent eating, fixing flats, and on the longer rides, sleeping. All but the shortest brevet (200 km/125 miles) require some night riding, and good lighting is essential.

Along the route, riders are required to stop at controls to get an authenticating stamp on their brevet cards. Each control has its own time window within which the authentication must occur to avoid disqualification. Riders should also anticipate one or more secret controls whose location will not be revealed in advance.

Unlike traditional century rides which may feature rest stops every 20 miles or so, the Gainesville Cycling Club brevets are unsagged and minimally supported. Controls are mostly convenience stores, and riders who abandon will likely need to provide their own transportation back to the start/finish.

The course is not marked. Finding one's way is part of the fun. Getting lost is sometimes part of the experience.

Requirements

Each rider must be covered by liability insurance, either by a group policy or by a personal policy. Each rider must sign a waiver of liability before the ride start.

Each rider must present their machine for bicycle inspection. Lights should be affixed, correctly aimed and working. Inspections and rider check in will be held from 6 PM to 8 PM the evening before the ride at the Quality Inn (See below) or after the ride start on the morning of the ride.

Randonneurs USA membership required before the ride to use the brevet as a qualifier (e.g. for BMB). RUSA rules apply.

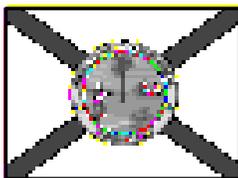

Membership in Gainesville Cycling Club is not required, but those who ride all four brevets will save money by joining.

Preregistration is not required, but riders will not be able to register or have their bike inspected on the day of the event until preregistered riders have departed, and the control windows must still be respected.

Registration/Accommodations

Obtain a registration form from the GCC web site.

Out of town riders: We have negotiated a discounted rate of $52/night (+9% tax) at the Quality Inn for the nights before and after each ride start. Mention the Gainesville Cycling Club, and make your reservations as soon as possible to receive this rate. Phone (352) 378-2405. FAX (352) 381-8742. Located off I-75 at exit 382 (Williston Rd.)

Bike Memorial Cleanup on December 26 to Remember Our Friends

December 26 is the seventh anniversary of the tragic accident in which a pick-up truck hit six GCC riders. Two riders, Margaret Raynal and Doug Hill, were killed and the other four were seriously injured.

The Bike Memorial, just south of downtown Gainesville on Depot Road, is in memory of our friends. The six sculptures, representing the six cyclists, contain the actual bicycles they were riding at the time of the crash.

To remember our friends, there will be a clean-up of the Memorial on Friday, December 26 starting at 9 a.m. Bring gloves, pic-sticks, rakes and if you are ambitious, a lawn mower. Chandler will be there with tools and refreshments, so just show up and spend an hour picking up litter or raking leaves. Following the clean-up, we will find some local establishment to get snacks and tell stories.

Ride leaders may want to route their rides past the Memorial and pause for a moment of silence. You could even start your ride from the Memorial.

The Bike Memorial is on Depot Road and SE 3rd Street, just east of South Main Street.

If you have questions, please E-mail me, Chandler Otis at: Chanbike@aol.com

The Tour de Santa Fe By Jonathon Keener

It was 8:30 on a Saturday morning when the first rider came up, the air was fresh and cool. Then all of a sudden rides started to appear like love bugs in the summer. After the rides paid their small fee they began to load up on the free food and talk about how beautiful the morning was. At 9:00 everyone got a safety briefing and the Tour De Santa Fe was off. The riders consisted of all kinds of people from all age groups, but all seemed to be thoroughly enjoying the ride. The tour went through Northwest Gainesville and made a loop beginning and ending at Santa Fe Community College. The route was only 10 miles, so to the novice rides it would not seem that bad while still entertaining the advanced riders. The cool morning air was just starting to get warm when the first rider came in across the finish line; it was Dr. Jackson Sassar, president of Santa Fe Community College. Then riders came in like cats to a fish market and seemed to hit the snack table in the same way.

Over all the Tour De Santa Fe was a lot of fun and I hope to see more riders next year and more free food. I would like to thank the Gainesville Cycling Club members that worked so hard to make this tour a reality. Next years tour will be in early November and I hope to see you out there in the fresh morning air.

Christmas Bike Fix-up Gives Bikes to Needy Children

For more than 15 years the GCC has helped the Gainesville police Department and the Florida Department of Corrections with the final touches on bikes given to kids at Christmas. Each year the Gainesville Police give 60-70 bikes to kids in need.

If you recall the excellent police protection we receive during the Gainesville Cycling Festival, that is the result of GCC's efforts with the Christmas bike fix-up.

This year, for logistical reasons, the bikes will be picked up at the prison by the Police, so GCC members won't have an opportunity to fix bikes, but we can still help.

Bikes Needed

We need bikes, especially kid's bikes. If you have a bike to donate, let Chandler know and he will come pick it up, or take it to Bikes and More on NW 6th Street, with a tag on it "for Christmas Bikes."

Another donation idea, purchase a bike at a yard sale or a thrift store for the Christmas Bike program. Goodwill always has a bunch of children's bikes for $2-5.

If you have questions or bikes to donate, please E-mail me, Chandler Otis at: Chanbike@aol.com

Take Stock In Children Tour

Take Stock In Children is a statewide scholarship incentive program. In Alachua County, the program is run through the Alachua County Public Schools Foundation. We select low-income 7th graders that attend our public schools and give them the support of a mentor and the incentive of a 4-year college scholarship if they stay drug-and-crime-free, keep up their grades and stay in school. Currently, there are 110 Alachua County students in this program and 37 students that have graduated and are now in college.

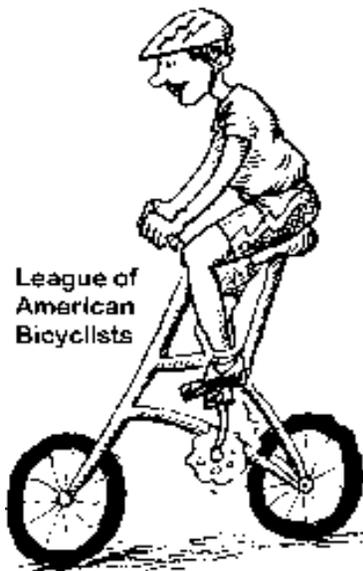

The Marion County organization is coordinating a 200 mile bike ride from Ocala to Tallahassee to raise scholarship money and program awareness. Participating riders will have their funds sponsor the scholarship of a local student in their county.

The ride is March 19th-20th, 2004 (Friday and Saturday). There is a lunch at the University of Florida, an overnight in Lake City, lunch in Madison, and the ride ends with a dinner in Tallahassee. There will be SAG wagons following the riders. Riders can choose to ride the whole way or do portions of the ride (like Ocala to Gainesville).

Former State Representative Perry McGriff and Gainesville Sun Publisher Jim Doughton have agreed to participate in this event and we would love to have many more riders join them. Each rider will be required to raise $100 to participate in the ride.

Festival Report

by Roger Pierce

2003 saw the most successful Gainesville Cycling Festival in history. We had 675 registrants, which easily beat the old record of 587 set in 1996. For the second straight year, the Horse Farm Hundred broke it's all time rider record, with 465 riders on the road (370 last year).

As usual, club members volunteered in good numbers to support the rides on the Festival weekend. We cannot put on an event of this magnitude without plenty of help!

We did have a problem with front end managerial support. I wound up being both the Registrar and Horse Farm Hundred Aid Director. These are both significant jobs, and as a result a few details that should have been attended to dropped through the cracks. We will need a few people with managerial experience to step forward next spring as we organize next year's ride. Concentrating too much work on too few people is a recipe for disaster.

I would like to thank other members of this year's pre-event management team: George Edwards spent a lot of time driving crews around to paint the routes and in organizing many of the details needed to get signs and SAGs out and working; Lee Edwards spent many hours typing registrations into the computer; Bud Jones rounded up everyone's cell phone number for the communications list; Chandler Otis arranged for Police support and notified police departments along our routes; Diann Dimitri organized everything needed for the Horse Farm rest stops; Clare Jones was on the food buying team, and cut up all of the onions. Our Horse Farm Hundred rest stop directors, Jerry & Bev Yermovsky, John Parker, and Danny Dresdner, also put in up front time planning for the big day.

Next year will be a new adventure as we move to a later date, October 23-24, 2004 (the Gators have a long homestand through our normal dates).

Road I Course

Planning is underway to offer the League of American Bicyclist's Road I Course in Gainesville. This basic 9 hour course is perfect as a primer for those cyclists who wish to gain a full understanding of how to safely operate a bicycle in a variety of situations. The 9 hour class includes learning how to perform a bicycle safety check, fixing a flat, interactive discussion, on-bike skills practice and student manual. Students will gain confidence knowing that they are riding legally and safely. Crash avoidance techniques and crash types will be discussed. Recommended for adults and children above 14. Look for details in the next newsletter.
